

Joint Photo Guide

Joints need to be restrained on a Mobra. If this is not possible you can restrain a Joint on Bearers and Arms or with an A frame. If this is not possible due to a congested box, we need to restrain the Joint and cables with tubing the best way we can. Examples are below

If the Joint is on a Mobra

1. Picture of the box lid off.
2. Picture of the Joint up on the arm showing Joint number
3. Picture showing Cables are restrained.

If the Joint is on Bearers and Arms

1. Picture with the box lid off
2. Picture showing Joint with Joint number visible
3. Picture showing the Joint and cables neatly restrained

If the Joint is on an A Frame

1. Picture with the box lid off.
2. Picture of Joint showing Joint number.
3. Picture showing Joint and Cables are restrained.

If the box is congested

If none of the above are options due to a congested box the Joint and cables will need to be restrained with tubing. Please check with an Avonline supervisor on the standards we require.
